

Benjamin's Perfect Puerto Rico Vacation

Sponsored by Waiora

Good-natured and outgoing, eighteen-year-old Benjamin is very popular among his friends. Although he is battling leukemia, he wanted badly to travel outside of Florida for the first time in his life. He made a wish to go to Puerto Rico with his family, to experience the tropical beaches and sparkling water of the Caribbean. Recently, his wish came true and he spent a relaxing week on the shores of Puerto Rico with his parents and younger brother. They explored the island, visiting many exciting and historic locations, and even saw the world's largest satellite dish! His favorite part of the trip was the pristine beaches and pools, both taking up the majority of his time. While there, he also met some family members for the very first time, including his aunt and great-grandmother, an event which was extremely special to both him and his family. "I don't want to come back home!" Benjamin exclaimed towards the end of his trip. It was truly a dream vacation, for him and for his family. They are very grateful to those who made this wish trip possible!
